RIDING AND EATING ARE STILL TABOOED IN LONDON STRIKE

THOUSANDS TRUDGE LONG DISTANCES THROUGH SLUSH; ALL TUBES ARE TIED UP.

PLAN CIVIC GUARD

Electrical Power Stations to Decide Today Whether Their Workers Will Join in Walk-out.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

London, Feb. 5.—There was little improvement today in the strike situation in London. All underground lines with the exception of the Metropolitan which has only one line running into the city, were still tied up. The hotels and restaurants, while able to replace a few of their employees still were offering meagre menus.

Thousands of persons again had to trudge long distances to work through slush caused by a sudden thaw. Some government offices and large business firms overcame the difficulties by running motor lorries from the outlying districts. There were many more automobiles on the streets and bicycles are coming into their own again.

Today will decide whether the status of the electrical power stations will join the strikers. According to the authorities it makes little difference what action is taken because the electrical power engineers association has promised to keep the stations in operation.

More men returned to work today in Glasgow while the presence of Lord Florida, controller of merchant shipping, in the city, gives hope of a settlement there.

Plans for the formation of a civic guard to maintain public service, have been submitted to the authorities, according to the Mail, which says that a similar plan has been successfully employed in Switzerland, Holland, and Australia. The newspaper states that, should the strike continue, the citizens may be asked to form a guard.

Glasgow, Tuesday, Feb. 4.—The number of men returning to work today on the Clyde was materially increased ranging at about 50 per cent at some works and from 60 to 70 per cent in others. The resumption of work in other affected shops is promised for tomorrow.

BOYS' INDIAN TRIBE CLUB MEETS

The second meeting of the Indian tribes of graded school boys, organized for the purpose of Bible study and social work was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. building. Supper was served after which the boys went to several homes where the Bible work was taken up.

Enough members were present at the meeting last night to make it advisable to form three new tribes of ten members each. The names selected by the boys for their tribes were the Chipewas, Algonquins and Ojibwas. In order to prepare for a new tribe a high school boy to act as supervisor of "Big Chiefs" has been selected.

At the meeting of the Iroquois tribe last night, Albert Bannison was named "Big Chief," John Matheson, "Little Chief," Gerald "Keeper of Records," and Clifford Conry "Keeper of Wampum."

All graded school boys between the ages of 12 and 15 are invited to join one of the tribes. A member does not need to be a member of the Y. M. C. A. All those interested are requested to see A. S. Phelps at the Y. M. C. A.

AFTON TO HAVE NEW CHURCH ORGANIZATION

Afton is to have a new church organization which will be known as the Christian Center, according to Dr. J. W. Hulbert, state superintendent of the Baptist state convention, who was in the city today discussing with Rev. Pierson and County Superintendent Del plans for the organization. The old Baptist church in Afton in which services have not been held for three years will be used for the Center.

People of all denominations and creeds will be welcome to become members of the organization. It will be strictly non-sectarian. Scores of Afton people have already expressed a desire for the proposed Center and many more will doubtless become members, when the organization is other social organizations.

The old church is in poor condition now but it is planned to make extensive alterations to make the building modern in every respect. A new basement will be constructed and rooms added and set aside as meeting places for young people's societies and other social organizations.

Services will be held every Sunday and it is planned to secure ministers of all denominations from Beloit and Janesville to deliver sermons and conduct the services.

There are 201 homes in Afton and the community within a radius of three miles and the village has been without a church of any kind for about three years. There has been no place from which to even hold services, so the organization of Christian Center is welcomed by residents there.

Tells Story of Human Bones Used by Germans

(BY INTERNATIONAL PRESS.)
London, Feb. 5.—Human bones from the battlefields were used by the Germans in their phosphorus factories at Bitterfeld, according to Priv. Fred Rees, of the famous Artists Rifles, who has just returned to England after imprisonment at Zerbst prison Lager, near Berlin.

"I was put to work in a phosphorus factory tipping bones out of wagons into a chute," Rees said. "I didn't need a surgeon's eye to tell that they were human bones. German soldiers said that the bones came from a human corpse factory. Larger consignments always arrived shortly heavy fighting at the front."

Two hundred couples danced to the music of Hatch's seven piece orchestra at the policemen's second annual ball held at the armory last evening. The dancing held sway from 9 o'clock until 8 o'clock this morning.

The affair was a success from every standpoint. It was the largest ball of the season. Nearly 400 tickets were sold on the streets during the past two weeks and the ticket sale at the door last evening amounted to over 150.

Numerous quadrilles, waltzes and other older dances interspersed with one-steps and fox-trots added to the enjoyment of the affair, provided run for all.

Flugs draped about the windows and hung from the ceilings formed the decorations. Hatch's orchestra was at its best and responded to encore after encore.

RUBBER-BAND MEN.

He died at least ten years before he would have done had he showed sense and not run by his danger signal. A leading specialist was discussing one of his cases.

"Yes, I know he exercised some in the last year or two, but even that was more bluff than real relaxation. He ate too much, he worked too hard, and he smoked and drank more than was good for him.

"Oh, no! He was not a drunkard nor a sportsman. Quite the reverse. He worked to the point of exhaustion. Tobacco during the day and a drink at the end of it kept him from feeling as tired as he was. A cocktail at dinner and a highball or two afterward made a social engagement or a charity board meeting, during the evening, just endurable.

"But, night after night, this kept up. The pressure was too strong, so, one day an artery in his brain cracked open and the insurance company paid the claim before it should have been due.

"The man had practically no elasticity left—either in his bodily strength or in his arteries. Hard work did not kill him. Neither did his moderate dissipation. It was the high tension constantly maintained.

"A rubber band, never stretched, hardens and rots early. So does one stretched constantly just short of the breaking point. Human beings, as somebody else has pointed out, are a good deal like rubber bands."

ALL-STARS DOWNED BY SENIOR QUINTET

In one of the fastest games played at the Y. M. C. A. this year the seniors downed the "Y" All-Stars by a 29 to 24 score last night. Cassidy and Piern starred for the winners while Babcock and Fullman played the stellar roles for the Stars. It was only the last teamwork of the Stars which saved them from a bigger defeat.

The seniors opened the scoring in the first half and then followed with two baskets. The lead changed back and forth until the half ended 15-12 with the seniors on the longer end of the score.

Fast teamwork of the Stars featured the second half but they were unable to get past Piern. The long boy broke up play after play under the basket.

The seniors played an intense game in this half, fouls being frequent. The game ended, seniors 29, Stars 24.

The scores and lineups:

Stars: Hager 11, Cassidy 6, Babcock 10, Piern 10, Fullman 6, Gruff, Grasslin 10, Hager 10, Marko 10, Ryan 10.

Field goals—Cassidy 6, Hager 2, Hager 4, Babcock 4, Fullman 2, Piern 3, Drew 1, Free throws, Cassidy 4, Piern 1, Hager 4.

In Beloit Saturday the All-Stars are scheduled to meet the Beloit Winabagoes in a return game at Beloit Saturday night. The Stars defeated the Gateway City bunch here last Saturday but some question has arisen on the part of the visitors as to the outcome of the game.

They got back to Beloit and called up Hager of the local five and said that they won the game. The Stars are indignant at this claim and are going to Beloit this week to pull over another victory.

The lightweight champions of Rockford will be brought here for a game with the Stars on the 15. The game will be played at the Y. M. C. A.

A WOMAN'S BUSINESS

BY ZOE BECKLEY

THE NOVELTY OF IDLENESS.

"Now you just keep on letting me think for you, dear," said Walter Stedman, and his wife, Margaret, against his shoulder contentedly. "I'm no tyrant, as you well know. But there are times when a man can think for a woman better than she can for herself."

"Just as a woman," put in Janet, "can think better for a man sometimes—like when he is being imposed on by another woman, or wearing himself to a shadow with overwork, or going out into town with out his rubbers, or eating and drinking and smoking too much, or—"

"There! Never mind racking your brain, you poor little self-righteous person," grinned Walter lovingly.

"For that matter, when anybody is overworked and overstrung and over-tired, whether man or woman, somebody else can do the thinking for them better than they can for themselves. Now, for example, I've made up my mind that you are to go straight up to Hill Farm Inn for two, four weeks of absolute rest and quiet."

"Oh, Walter! Not that swell, expensive place! I'd feel guilty as an millionaire. I never could—"

"There, it's all settled," said Stedman, paying no attention to his wife's convulsive objections. "I'll go right with you tomorrow evening and stay over Sunday. Then you are to forget me and your office and all your work and—"

On the following Monday morning, therefore, Janet Stedman found herself waving good-bye to her husband on the porch of a lovely country hotel on the shore of a lake in the heart of the hills.

At first Janet had a weird sense of being somebody else. To have nothing to do, to be waited upon, to be served with food that she had not marketed for, to rise as late as she felt like, to take a drive in absolute leisure, to walk, to read all the fascinating magazines and pleasant books she found on every side, to sink at night into a bed apparently made of down and roses, covered with a robe of silk and clouds—oh, the joy of it all!

For the first few nights her very thoughts made sleep impossible. Janet thought of Walter, of the little ministrations of brown Katie to keep him comfortable, of Walter, working hard by day and tinkering on his plays and stories till past midnight. Walter, the stories, the understanding friend, the wedded lover. How idiotic of her, Janet, to go and have a nervous breakdown like any stupid spendthrift. Why had she not been able to keep her balance, to give her energies wisely, to conserve her forces? Were women poor things after all? The weaker vessels, the weaker ones? Was she really going to fall in her undertaking of combining love and work? This thought set her brain spinning. Close on her wings came the determination to succeed.

"Then rest," whispered her reason. "Get back your poise and take fresh hold of life. This time you must win. But that happens to all. Pick up and start again. You'll succeed next time."

And so her reason lulled her and soon she began to drink in the luxury of her new life. Her old friends, her old acquaintances, were almost without exception of the class to whom money has never been a problem. Amusement was their only pursuit. The only thing they followed up with energy, gratification was a natural by-product of their existence.

One of the women of this strange, new world made friendly overtures to Janet, and Janet responded, and an odd, more or less unprofitable acquaintance sprang up. (To be continued.)

A Guide to GOOD MANNERS

by Janice

A young lady should take the initiative when she meets a gentleman with whom she may have gone to dinner or with whom she may have danced several times at a ball. Should she meet him in the street she should always bow to him, though no further acquaintance may ever exist between them.

It is always the woman's privilege to bow first when meeting men acquaintances. She may merely bend her head slightly and looking directly at the person recognized give him a slight smile or amiable glance.

By way of acknowledging the woman's bow the man must lift the hat from the head and bow slightly. Under no circumstances can a gentleman refuse to return a woman's bow.

A well-bred woman never fails to recognize in all public places by a cordial glance or bow either those who serve her in any capacity, such as her handmaid or gardener or those to whom she stands in the light of a patron, as her grocer or baker.

THE WINTER FRUIT

Raisin-Apple Tapioca Pudding.—Cook one cup seeded raisins in three cups water until tender. Drain water from raisins into double boiler. There should be two and one-half cups minute tapioca, two tablespoons sugar, one cup raisins and one cup cream. Buttered baking dish, fill centers with mixture or eight sour apples, arrange in buttered baking dish, fill centers with one cup seeded raisins and mix with one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons sifted cracker dust and grated rind one lemon. Bake the tapioca over the apples. Bake in moderate oven until apples are well done. Serve with custard sauce or cream, plain or whipped. Sprinkle shredded cocoanut over the top.

Honey Apples.—Pare and core six medium-sized apples; place in a dripping pan and fill the center of each apple with a tablespoon of strained honey and a teaspoon of butter. Add one cup water, cover and cook until put in a quick oven. As soon as the water boils reduce the heat, so that the apples may cook gently. Then turn occasionally and just before the baking is finished remove the cover and let the apples brown slightly. Serve with or without whipped cream.

Apple Pudding.—One and one-half cups flour, three tablespoons butter, two teaspoons sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one and one-half level teaspoons baking powder, one-half cup milk, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, or cinnamon, two teaspoons lemon juice, apples.

Sift together thoroughly the flour, sugar, salt and baking powder. Work in the butter with the tips of the fingers; add the milk. Pare and cut the apples in quarters. Butter a pudding dish and fill two-thirds with the fruit. Sprinkle with enough sugar to sweeten, and add nutmeg or cinnamon and lemon juice. Cover and bake until the apples are soft. Eat and relish the dough mixture, place over the apples, cover and bake 20 minutes. Serve with hard sauce.

FOR THE TABLE.

If you wish to arrange long and short stemmed flowers together and lack the proper vase, try this plan: Slip a rubber band over a hat pin holder, about half way down all with water, and place in the middle of a flat cut-glass dish or pretty salad bowl.

Insert the long stemmed flowers in perforations of hat pin holder, and slip foliage under rubber band, so stems will touch the water. Then mass the small flowers around it in the bowl.

ing down stars and breaking a cut glass umbrella stand which woke the occupants of the house up. He was caught and given four more years. The star was for dropping a plugged lead nickel in a blind man's cup and then accidentally knocking over the cup and putting all but the nickel in his pocket.

And so on went the charges until the eleventh and most serious affair of all, which the court refused to make public, it was so terrible, but the man was sentenced to be hung.

Anyway, after many months hard work on the part of his four year old step-daughter, the man was given a reprieve.

"You are not to be hung!" cried the little girl.

"Ah! No noose is good news!" the ex-doomed man exclaimed, thankfully.

And this is how it first came to be said.

And if she has red cheeks and blond hair she will choose this smart chapeau treuse colored sailor with its turned up brim and its conventional design in leaf green chenille worked by hand. The patriotic girl will choose French blue felt with cherry red chenille embroidery.

And just then a knock came at the door, and who do you suppose was the Yellow Dog Tramp, Billy Bunny's old friend, you remember.

"Come in," said the monkey, for he knew him well, because the Yellow Dog Tramp had stopped at the monkey's house lots of times, you know.

THE YOUNG MAN IN CHURCH.

Is there any sight more oddly moving and touching than that of a young man in church?

There is no question about it—in this day and generation we have come to think of the active practice of religion as something belonging peculiarly to women the clergy and middle aged or elderly men. And when an unassuming young man shoulders his way through that sad tradition, marches his fine back up the aisle, and lifts up his healthy young voice in the hymns, or bows his proud young head above the prayer book, there is something in the sight that touches the sort of heart chords that vibrate to tales of heroism or to beautiful music.

At least, that is my experience, and from what I have heard other people say, it is not a unique one. Especially, I have heard that subject mentioned in the last two or three years.

When the Young Man in Church is a Soldier.

For when the young man in church wore the uniform of his country and the halo of a consecration to the great cause as well as the glow of his youth, his appeal was almost too poignant.

I remember one Sunday just before Peace Day when the lady next door came home from church with such a look of uplift in her face that I asked at once if the sermon had been unusually inspirational. And behold, it was not a sermon at all that had lit the little lamps in her eyes, but the inspiration of the young man in church.

The Boy and His Grandmother. "He was one of these radio boys," she said, "and I don't think he was more than twenty, and six feet tall and fair and so manly-looking! And he was with the dearest old lady—I think she must have been his grandmother. And when he stood holding the edge of the hymn book with her, and then when he knelt beside her in the prayer, it made a lump in my throat because it seemed so beautiful."

It has been trying to analyze this feeling, and it seems to me that it represents a sort of subconscious satisfaction in the union of youth and strength with humility and worship.

It is beautiful even when it is arrogant and thoughtless, but when it becomes serious, humble and tender, it is so surprisingly beautiful that it reaches down into our hearts and touches those emotions that "lie too deep for tears."

Is This Feeling a Reaction From Certain Conditions?

Conversely, it seems to me that it counters a subconscious dissatisfaction with the position of the church today, with our tacit association of the church with the unmasculine forces in the community. It makes that we long to see youth and virility once more associated with the public religion. And it seems to me that the awful scourge through which we have been passing has perhaps turned the sack and striped candy came on the hutchback, and the hall he followed the monkey into the sitting room.

Well, after a little while Billy Bunny told the monkey all about the Old Brier Patch and Daddy Fox and old Man.

Things, too, only I haven't the room in this story to tell them to you. And when he had finished, the monkey said he had once belonged to a man who had a hand organ and went about the country playing music for pennies, and sometimes for nothing.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Could you give me your opinion of a certain fellow? I have met him but a few times and the first time he was out with me he acted as if he cared for me. He wrote me a few letters and they were very interesting. He said he loved me and there isn't anyone who could love me so much.

That is what puzzles me. He came home once Saturday and I saw him up town. I spoke to him and he answered, but acted as if he would not know me. I had a new coat and hat since I saw him last.

Later I saw him take a girl home. The girl wasn't dressed very nicely and I don't think much of her. Sunday night I saw him with a different girl. He sat right back of me in a theater and when he was going out he looked at me and didn't seem to think very much of the girl he was with.

(1) Do you think he cares for me since he wrote such loving letters and yet when he came home did not come to see me?

(2) When he writes again should I ask him why he did not come to see me?

(3) He has sent me a picture of himself. I love him so much that I don't know if I am doing right or not. He wants one of my pictures. Shall I send him one or wait until he apologizes for what he has done?

(4) The young man is a trifle. If he loved you he would have gone to see you the first thing upon arriving in town. You may be sure that he has told all the other girls the very thing he has written you.

(5) Do not wait for him to write again. Return his picture at once—also his letters, and request that he send yours back. Your reputation is not safe with such a man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man and have been going with a girl for about a month. At first I liked her very much, but lately she has changed. Every night that we are out she will stay with me and about out she will let me kiss her whenever I want to. She never takes me to her home. She always leaves me at the corner or goes to a friend's house. She is very nice and I like her very much. I am a little bit of a flirt and I like to be flirted with.

I asked the girl to marry me, just for fun. She told me she would. I do not make the money I want to, but I am going out of town for good in about a week. How can I tell this girl I was only joking when I asked her to marry me, without hurting her? I would hate to do that, so please help me out, EDDY S.

You have not been honorable with the girl. To propose is not a joking matter. You should have been quick to see that she believed you and to tell her the idea that you intended to marry her.

If you go away now without saying anything it will break her heart and she will wait and wait for you to come back. Such a thing would be so cruel that it will be better to tell her the truth now. Go away with a complete understanding. When she knows the worst she will resign herself to it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am considered a very pretty, attractive girl of seventeen. Many have asked me to marry them, especially so this last year, since I have grown up.

During this last year five young men have proposed to me, but there is only one I care for. He is so at home to me, always wants to hold my hand at dances or in public places. I love him too dearly to say anything against him. What would you advise me to do?

CONSTANCE. Do not permit the man to hold your hand in public places; it is in very bad taste. If he does not show better judgment, you should teach him to have more respect for himself and you.

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

A PRACTICAL LIES. When doctors release into the strange language of calories, vitamins, proteins, metabolism and the like, it no wonder they make folks dread the doctor. I am happy without a large mouthful of words, mere words. Indeed, it often happens that the less thought there is secreted by his brain the more stuporous his patients there is excreted from his mouth.

In fact, the higher you ascend, or rather the further you go from shore, the more wary the "fish" of the medical profession becomes about committing themselves on anything. For example, this statement appears in a recent large monographic work on "Medicine: The protein metabolism is also specifically affected by the thyroid secretion." "Specifically affected?" A doctor's way of saying "I'm not going to commit myself—let the reader try to guess whether I mean increased or diminished." You have to be careful about making any definite statements if you wish to be an authority.

The "authorities" avail themselves of the same old privilege when discussing the catching cold plagues. "This, they admit, that the respiratory diseases called 'colds' are all caused by bacterial infection (and this is true, they think between the lines), yet at the same time we must consider that exposure to cold and wet lower the resistance of the individual to such infections. They insist that, although no one has yet been able to prove that exposure has anything to do with the respiratory diseases of human beings.

From 60 to 75 grams of protein (2 to 2.5 is required) is required daily in the diet of an adult. How much that that amount to at the table?

Each of these items contains 75 grams of protein:
Cheese 1 1/2 lbs.
Eggs 1 1/2 lbs.
Beans 1 1/2 lbs.
Soybeans 1 1/2 lbs.
Broad 1 1/2 lbs.
The body requires 0.67 gram (about 8 grains) of protein for each pound of body weight in each of the following:
Peanuts 2 oz.
Cabbage 1 1/2 lbs.
Turnips 3 oz.
Milk 1 1/2 lbs.
The body requires 0.50 to 0.60 gram of protein for each pound of body weight and work done. Each of the following items has a fuel value of 100 calories:
Potatoes 3 1/2 lbs.
Peas, chick 3 1/2 lbs.
Apples, dried 1 1/2 lbs.
Chicken 3 1/2 lbs.
Candy 3 1/2 lbs.

ANSWER—Keep on as you are.

Formaldehyde and Tuberculosis. Is formaldehyde a good disinfectant? How much should be used to disinfect a room of tuberculosis? (W. S.)

ANSWER—Formaldehyde solution is a fairly powerful germicide for germs that are not for some time. It is directly applied, it is irritating and poisonous and unpleasant in odor. None is necessary to disinfect a room that has been occupied by a person with tuberculosis. Soap and water washing of the floor and woodwork, and an airing and sunning are sufficient. If the woodwork or walls are visibly soiled, renovate the room.

PRING BILLBOARD CLEANING IS URGED

The Government is asking for a spring billboard cleaning before the Liberty Loan campaign begins. Hundreds of thousands of faded old posters from former patriotic drives still cling to walls, windows and fences in the seventh federal reserve district. It is pointed out that it is recommended now by the heads of the district and state loan organizations that citizens everywhere get their premises in order for the new campaign.

Some ten million of the new posters will be sent out to the various districts. It is greatly desired by the authorities that no trace of former literature be left to compete with the appeal of the Liberty Loan posters.

Are You Losing Your Grip on Health?

Physician's Prescription to Increase The Health and Strength of Anaemic, Run-down Men and Women

As a result of the tremendous strain which the war has put upon so many people, the nerve cells have become devitalized, the whole system weakened, and thousands of men and women are today losing their grip on health simply because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving through lack of iron. It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life sustaining oxygen enters the body and enables the blood to change food into living tissue muscle and brain. If people would only keep their blood filled with strength-giving iron by taking Nuxated Iron when they feel weak and run-down they might readily build up their red blood corpuscles and quickly become stronger and healthier in every way. If you are not strong, or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength of weak, nervous, "run-down" men and women in two weeks' time in many instances. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is on sale at all good druggists.

The American Expeditionary Forces and a Militarists View of the War. By General John J. Pershing.

The Navies of the World—bearing especially on the Allied Naval Forces. By Admiral Wm. A. Simms. Commander-in-Chief of our European Naval Forces.

This wonderful array of authorities is augmented by a staff of war trained photographers, Foreign representatives and writers of International Authority—all combined into one book of 352 pages with 245 illustrations not including maps, etc., printed on ivory finish book paper, bound in cloth, size 8x10½ inches.

The Largest and Best Illustrated Book on the War's History

Extract From the Author's Foreword

Entertaining visualization of the war is best attained through photographs. For this reason this book has been profusely illustrated and the hundreds of scenes photographed during the four years of campaigning on all the great fronts, in themselves tell the narrative in a convincing manner. These pictures were taken by the most skilled men attached to the fighting forces. Many of them since America got into the war, are the official output of the Bureau of Public Information in Washington. Others were taken by men who risked their lives for a "close-up."

The events of the war have been brought down to the present day. No vital episode of the struggle has been overlooked. The narrative is complete from the demolition of Liege to the signing of the terms of the armistice and the abdication of the Kaiser. It is hoped that it will do full justice to the sacrifice, courage, steadfastness in the face of apparent defeat, of the tireless fighting men of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Serbia and the United States.

BRINGING UP FATHER

CARDS "LOAD UP" FOR MADISON CONTEST

Interest of basketball fans is centered on the Lakota Cardinals-Madison Olympic game at the Armory tomorrow night. With a strengthened lineup the Cards are out to make it three straight victories. Phillips, Murphy, Henning, Peterson, and a university of Wisconsin star will be seen in Cardinals and with this strong aggregation pulling together the Lakota bunch look like the best bet of the season.

Madison is coming down with a stronger team with the hope of putting the skids to the local champs. "Peewee" Tenney will lead the invaders and Casserly, the man who played with the Cards against Elgin last week and put up such a great exhibition, will also be in an Olympic uniform. The Cardinals are out to retrieve their two-point defeat sustained at the hands of the Cards two weeks ago and have added two new men to put over a win.

The game will begin at 8:30. A preliminary game between the Red Devils and "Y" All Stars, two local crack amateur teams, has been arranged. This contest will start at 7:30.

Every effort is being made by the management of the local organization to present the best team possible. Casserly has been secured to play with the Cardinals after Thursday evening. The Madison team has been strengthened considerably since their last appearance in this city and the Lakotas will be forced to extend themselves to the limit to gain another victory from the Madison quintet.

Captain Henning is satisfied with his team for tomorrow evening and stated this morning that the team should make an excellent showing against the fast Madison team.

Peterson who played against the Olympics on their first appearance in this city will again don a Cardinal uniform on Thursday. Peterson is considered by critics to be one of the fastest guards in the middle west. His playing with the Madison team earlier in the season was the sensation of the game.

The eager four baskets during the game and was on the ball at all times. With a University of Wisconsin star as his running mate Peterson should easily be able to hold the scoring of the Madison team to a minimum.

A telegram was received yesterday from Detroit stating that the Detroit Y. M. C. quintet are preparing for their mid-western trip and the first game of the trip would be played in this city on February 19.

Composed of players who have been playing together for the past nine years the Detroit Y. M. C. is credited by all critics to be one of the greatest teams ever organized in the United States. In nine years they have lost about five games and each one of them was by a close margin and the majority of them due to great amount of luck.

The Detroit team holds victories over the Buffalo Germans, the Cleveland Pioneers, Chicago, New York Nationals, Troy, and the Springfield Training school, also the Em Roes of Indianapolis.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days—you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

PAT GETS HARDEST JOB IN BASEBALL

Pat Moran.

Pat Moran deserves the distinguished service medal or some other recognition for his bravery in taking the job of managing the Cincinnati Reds. The deal was closed recently when Garry Hermann failed to hear from Mathewson in answer to a query as to his intentions. Managing the Reds has proved the toughest job in baseball.

DEMPSEY WILL MEET WILLARD JULY 4TH

New York, Feb. 5.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxer of Salt Lake City, was definitely selected on Tuesday as the opponent for Jess Willard, in a title bout to be staged July 4. For his end of the purse Dempsey will receive $37,500 and one third of the gate receipts. The guarantee promised Dempsey and Willard, is the biggest in ring history. Willard will get $100,000.
